CRJ 507: Social Network Analysis

Land Acknowledgement

Arizona State University acknowledges, with respect, that its physical locations are within the ancestral homelands of those American Indian tribes that have sustained connections to its lands and waters since time immemorial, including the Akimel O'odham (Pima), Pee Posh (Maricopa), Quechan (Yuma), and Tohono O'odham peoples.

Statement of Inclusion

Arizona State University is deeply committed to positioning itself as one of the great new universities by seeking to build excellence, enhance access and have an impact on our community, state, nation and the world. To do that requires our faculty and staff to reflect the intellectual, ethnic and cultural diversity of our nation and world so that our students learn from the broadest perspectives, and we engage in the advancement of knowledge with the most inclusive understanding possible of the issues we are addressing through our scholarly activities. We recognize that race and gender historically have been markers of diversity in institutions of higher education. However, at ASU, we believe that diversity includes additional categories such as socioeconomic background, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, veteran status, nationality and intellectual perspective. At Watts College, we echo these sentiments through Our Aspirations to be a vehicle through which we make the world a better place.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to complete the course evaluation. The feedback provides valuable information to the instructor and the college and is used to improve student learning. Students are notified when the online evaluation form is available.

Drop and Add Dates/Withdrawals

This course adheres to a schedule and may be part of a sequenced program, therefore, there is a limited timeline to drop or add the course. Consult with your advisor and notify your instructor to add or drop this course. If you are considering a withdrawal, review the following ASU policies: Withdrawal from Classes, Medical/Compassionate Withdrawal, and a Grade of Incomplete.

Generative AI

Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI) is a form of artificial intelligence that can create high-quality audio, images, text, video, 3D models and other content. GenAI programs are not a replacement for human creativity, originality, and critical thinking. While adhering to any policies on the use of GenAI in this course, students utilizing GenAI content in their assignments, including in their practicum placements, must provide clear and comprehensive descriptions of the GenAI used. Students utilizing GenAI techniques should be aware of potential ethical implications and must adhere to relevant ethical guidelines and ensure that their work respects privacy and confidentiality. If the scholarly work involves human subjects, appropriate informed consent procedures must be followed. Scholarly work must be the student's own, and not present others' ideas, data, words or other material without adequate citation, i.e., any use of GenAI must not breach academic integrity and plagiarism standards. Students should be cautious of incorrect or inaccurate information, as well as bias in GenAI generated content; the use of person-first and bias-free language is critical. Review, fact-check, and edit material produced by GenAI. The student is ultimately accountable for all submitted work.

If you are in doubt as to whether you are using GenAI appropriately in this course, reach out to your instructor.

Syllabus Disclaimer

The syllabus is a statement of intent and serves as an implicit agreement between the instructor and the student. Every effort will be made to avoid changing the course schedule but the possibility exists that unforeseen events will make syllabus changes necessary. Please remember to check your ASU email and the course site often.

Warning of Course Content

At times, we may discuss material that may be disturbing—even traumatizing—to some students. This may include strong language (including swear words); graphic descriptions of or extensive discussions of crimes, victimization (including suicide, homicide, rape and sexual abuse, kidnapping, violent assaults, and drug abuse), or disaster scenarios; and depiction or discussion of discriminatory attitudes or actions. If you have experienced criminal victimization or some other type of trauma in your past, you should feel free to excuse yourself from the classroom during a discussion that causes you to experience distress. You will, however, be responsible for any material you miss or, alternatively, for an alternate assignment if you are unable to engage with the material. If you suffer from some form of post-traumatic stress that may be triggered by discussion of material, you are encouraged to formulate a plan for treatment with the relevant health advisers to work on preventing unexpected reactions to potentially triggering material. ASU student counseling services can be reached Monday through Friday from 8am to 5pm at 602-496-1155 or in the Historic Post Office Building, Suite 208. There is also a 24-hour ASU-dedicated crisis hotline at 480-921-1006.

Keep in mind that some discomfort is inevitable in classes because the goals of higher education include exposing students to new ideas; having students question beliefs they have taken for granted and grapple with ethical problems they have never considered; and, more generally, expanding their horizons so as to become informed and responsible democratic citizens. You may become frustrated from time to time as you struggle with viewpoints that differ from your own. Even if you have previously experienced some form of trauma or victimization, this course may offer you the benefit of helping to understand behaviors in a manner that allows you to process what may have occurred in your past and move forward in your recovery.
